Gonzaga University's Master of Accountancy program prepares students for the dynamic nature of today's accounting profession and for careers in the rapidly changing financial environment of tomorrow.

Gonzaga's School of Business is ACCREDITED by the AACSB. Statistics published annually by the NASBA reveal that Gonzaga MAcc students consistently perform significantly above the national average on all sections of the UNIFORM CPA EXAMINATION.

The PLACEMENT rate for MAcc graduates is nearly 100% prior to graduation because of the strong on-campus recruiting program. Students are encouraged to participate in accounting internship programs.

CLASSES are offered in the early morning, evening and during the day to accommodate those students who are employed full-time or part-time.

TUITION for the MAcc program is $710/credit (2008-2009). The majority of MAcc students receive some type of financial assistance while in the program.

Numerous SCHOLARSHIPS are available to resident and international MAcc students. Both Gonzaga endowments and generous contributions from outside accounting organizations make this possible.

There are two areas of specialization in the MAcc program: PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTING and TAXATION.

Gonzaga offers GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIPS that pay for a portion of tuition for full-time students.

Students can apply for ADMISSION and begin classes in the fall, spring, summer I or summer II semesters.

Gonzaga has a strong on-campus RECRUITING PROGRAM. Graduates are employed at all national and many regional CPA firms, GAO, Boeing, SEC, Expeditors International, Washington Mutual, and the Gates Foundation

Joint Programs of Study

MAcc/Juris Doctor

In conjunction with Gonzaga's School of Law (111-credit degree)

Average completion, 3-3.5 years

BBA/MAcc 3/2

In conjunction with Gonzaga's undergraduate accounting program. This cost effective program allows Gonzaga undergraduate accounting students to take up to 9 MAcc credits during their senior year. Thus, students may obtain both their BBA and MAcc degrees while completing the 150 credits needed to sit for the CPA exam. Students should apply during the spring semester of their junior year.

Average completion, 5 years
